

The print bed that the 3D printer will print on roller that the 3D pinter will be on so it can be rolled without moving the filament the 3D printer will use the extruder without the filament end doors to the enclosures

The touch screen that will be used to control and view the conditions for the filament the touch screen that this used to control and view the main body of the 3D printer such as setting and selecting a file the filament ends for the extruder a piston that can raise the filament ends up so they are not in the way when Printing a battery that can run the printer in case the power goes out